HE "TREATY PORTS OF CHINA & JAPAN," AND "NOTES AND QUERIES ON CHINA AND JAPAN.

EXTRACTS FROM REVIEWS. (From the "Friend of India," June 4, 1868. We acknowledge with thanks the receipt of the numbers for the current year of "Notes and Queries," a most deserving Anglo-Chinese monthly, edited by Mr N. B. Dennys, whose "Treaty Ports of China and Japan" are so well known. From the names attached to the "Notes" we can see that the contributors include some of the best Chinese scholars in the East. Its interest is not confined to China, and it will be of valuable essistance to all scholars, who have directed their attention towards the subject of Buddhism and its literature, and generally to all who are interested in oriental antiquities. It deserves to be better known in India.

(From the "Strarts Times," July 27, 1868.) Some time ago we had occasion to remark upon the progress that Literature as represented by the Press had made and was making in the East, and our attention has again been called to the subject by the receipt of a Hongkoug publication which deserves some notice and which we have much pleasure in introducing to the knowledge of our readers. We allude to Notes and Queries on thina and Japan, published monthly by Mr Saint, the proprietor of the China Mail newspaper. This publication is well printed on good paper, and in size and shape is very like its well-known namesake or prototype at home, and is equally a mine containing very curious and useful information regarding the language, literature, history, manners and customs of the Chinese and in a less degree of the Japanese. It says a good deal for the extent and stability of the footing of Europeans in China, that such a publication as this should be established and conducted with apparently successful vigour. The publication is altogether a very interesting one, and wishing it every success. we commend it to the attention and support of our roaders. (From the "Lindon Examiner," May

This really useful volume ["Treaty Ports China and Japan " is intended as a guide for travellers and residents in China and Japan, and as a book of reference for mercantile men generally. It contains an account, historical and political, of all the open ports of these countries, together wit Peking, Yedo, Hongkong, and Macao. has been carefully compiled and edited by orders for any Newspaper or Magazine | Mr N. B. Dennys; and the elaborate maps published in England or The United and plans, with which the work abounds.

We have thus given in outline some devoted to Canton, as a specimen of the whole volume. Other chapters treating Macao, Formosa, Ningpo, Shanghae, and the remaind r of the treaty ports, we can enumerate. The pages describing Peking, the capital, are so interesting, and contain so much that is new to European readers respecting its history, public buildings, and general characteristics, that we would fain transfer them to our columns. A complete and intelligible plan of the Imperial City and neighborishood, gives us an accurate notion of the relative position of its divisions, streets, and places.

In the introductory chapter to the notices of the Treaty forts of Japan will be found a succinct history of that Empire, together with remarks on its government, geography and limits, which will be found particularly interesting as throwing a considerable light on a part of the world so long entirely, and still comparatively, unknown to Europeans. The descriptions of Nagasaki, Yedo, Yokohama, and the other Treaty Ports of Japan, are as elaborate and entertaining as General & Commission Agents those of the Chinese ports. A copions inlints and much appropriate advice to truvellers and others, is also included in the volume. The entire work affords a vast amount of information, pleasantly written, and we doubt not will be perused with interest by many who will never visit the Enstern sens.

THE PROVIDENZA.

THE sad story of the illfated vessel which so mysteriously appeared off Hakodadi offers so many points for enquiry that our only fear is lest interested parties succeed in preventing that publicity being given to every particular connected with her, which it is so desirable, in the interests of humanity, should be obtained. Per "YESSO," on Monday, the 14th | The account published in our contemporary adds to the information which appeared in our last evening's edition, but surely inaccurate in one or two particulars. It states, for instance, that the vessel was consigned to Messrs Refor YOKOHAMA, SAN FRANCISCO, & medios & Co. at Hongkong, whence the vessel proceeded to Macao for a cargo of

"JAPAN," at 3 o'clock r.m., on | Coolies, &c. Now as our readers are aware the representative of this firm is t :e Portuguese Consul at Hongkong. And to suppose that Mr Remedies is a pig-trader (as the Chinese call those who ship emigrants) is, after the exposés which have for some years been made of the horrors of the trade, absurd. We confess to having a personal interest in this matter, as we are well aware that it was on the representations made by H. F. M. Consul, to the late Governor of Macao, that the Acting Attorney General was requested to prosecute, for alleged libels, the proprietor of this Journal. The case would be robbed of half its importance in one sense (though it would be increased in another) if it should appear that the moving cause was a coolle dealer, and moreover the agent of a ship which has afforded the most horrible

illustration of coolie trade tragedies which has for some months appeared. Our contemporary Must be misinformed. The vessel is stated to be of 564 tons, while she carried 380 coolies. By the regulation of 13th August, 1864, a stop was put to the "substitution of Chinese empiries for duly qualified practitioners," and it was decreed that no vessel should put to sea with over 20 coolies on board, unless she carried a "medical practitioner and a medicine Had the Providence these necessaries? We hear nothing of a missing "doctor" though of course there may have been one on board. An interpreter is enumerated as another necessity. Was there a competent man engaged in that capacity? What officers were engaged What was the number of her crew! All these questions are easy enough to answer satisfactorily, for we do not attribute to the vessels the "abuses" of the coolie trade. These lie, as Admiral de Souza says, "beyond the jurisdiction" of even if taking their primary source in Macao. But they will doubtless have some bearing upon the events which have followed.

The disposal of the furniture and other articles, remains, under any theory except that of murder, the most mysterious element in the whole account as yet. published. If, as our contemporary at

THE LONDON POLICE. The London Police comprises, in round numbers, 10,000 men. Of the whole body there are two divisions—the "City" and the "Metropolitan." Two-thirds of the entire force are single men. The most careful inquiries are made with regard to their induction into the service. Men with families are long known to the authorities, and their characters are well established. They are usually assigned to duty near where their families reside. These are the staid solid men who move quietly about in the night, in darkness and in storm, when the merchant is absent from his office, when the great majority of the inhabitants are slumbering in their bads, and test by personal inspection the security of the fastenings of every place of business.

Attached to convenient portions of each division is a mess room. Here the men without families supply their own rations. No one but a sworn member of the force is duty.
